

A little background on Sunvil – a specialist holiday company that remains fiercely independent...

2012 sees our 42nd birthday. Originally, we sold villas and apartments in Cyprus – but, in 1973, we decided to organise self-catering holidays, giving property owners an income as well as their own holiday home. Well ahead of the current building boom, Sunvil created the self-catering villa market in Cyprus. In July 1974, Turkey invaded Cyprus and we lost everything in the north of the island. We had to diversify, and Sunvil's first Greek brochure was published in 1975. We also launched our travel agency. Business recommenced in Cyprus – only to the south of the island – late in 1975. A brochure to Italy followed in 1979 and to Portugal in 1984; both destinations offer a lot in terms of scenery, culture and wonderful food and wine. The Atlantic archipelago of the Azores was added in 1990; Sunvil is the leading UK holiday company to these beautiful islands. In 2011 Sunvil flew the first weekly charter from Heathrow to Beja, a brand new airport in the beautiful and unknown Alentejo region of Portugal.

GIC The Villa Collection (formerly Greek Islands Club) became part of the family in 1998, making Sunvil the leading specialist operator to Greece and her islands – just ask our experts if you'd like to get off the beaten track, to see some wonderful sights and to stay in some amazing places.

Long-haul holidays came in 1992 with Namibia and, in 1995, with Costa Rica, the central American enclave with amazing plants, bird life and butterflies. Sunvil's Latin American portfolio now includes all the major central/south American countries and sister company Expert Africa features most of southern Africa and many of the Indian Ocean islands.

Unusual destinations include Romania (2007), suited to the open-minded and more adventurous traveller. Sweden and Norway followed (2008) – and also (2010) the Faroe Islands, part of Denmark. 2010 also saw the launch on the Thames of Genevieve, our restored 1914 beaver stern saloon launch. The launch is available for charter.

Sunvil has pioneered many specialist destinations in its 40-year history. The original directors still play an active part in the day-to-day running of the company and we are all proud that repeat and recommended holidaymakers make up 70% of our customers – due testament to our expertise and dedication to quality.

Everyone in the team visits our specialist destinations many times; they know them and our properties, self-catering or hotel, extremely well. Unusually, in this web-based travel age, we take full responsibility for our holidays, too, putting us in the very top echelon of companies that you can really trust to look after your holiday plans. Sunvil is proud, over 40 years, to have gained many accolades and awards, both from the travel industry itself and from the national press and leading consumer publications such as Holiday Which? and Wanderlust magazine.

We've been at the forefront of environmental initiatives and good practice over 25 years. Yes, it's enlightened self-interest and, yes, it's also good business practice – but we believe in it passionately.

Few companies have survived intact and independent for over 40 years in this very competitive industry! Here at Sunvil we hope for many more years of innovation to come, allied with high levels of customer care, despite the current challenging economic situation.

Do visit www.sunvil.co.uk for our latest news, podcasts and blogs, and call our team to discuss your holiday wish-list and request a tailor-made quote. We look forward to serving you in 2012 and beyond, and we thank our many loyal customers for their continued and much-appreciated custom.
