

South America

A living theatre of unparalleled spectacle and variety, the vast area of the southern continent contains the world's largest river, highest waterfall, driest desert and most immense rainforest. Unique wildlife, remarkable cities, snow-capped mountains, beautiful national parks, mystic sacred valleys, archaeological treasures, stunning islands, endless beaches and the pulsating heartbeat of the human mosaic.

