

The Lofoten, Norway

Holiday Types

We understand that there is no one holiday to suit all, which is why we handcraft each and every holiday. Our aim is to surprise and delight experienced travellers and new visitors alike.

Winter breaks, polar nights and the Aurora Borealis:

The crisp winter landscape is a sight to behold and an experience that will excite all senses. Watch as the snow twinkles like a thousand diamonds in the low sun, listen to the crunch of the frozen ground beneath your feet and feel the warmth of a roaring fire.

Winter breaks and excursions are available in:

- Swedish Lapland (pages 32-45)
- Northern Norway and Svalbard (pages 66-89)

Outdoor experiences:

'There is no such thing as bad weather, just bad clothing', is a saying that you will hear across Scandinavia. Living to this philosophy means that local residents are outside whenever they can. Unspoiled nature is everywhere from archipelagos, to fjords, glaciers and mountain ranges, and the long summer daylight hours mean you will have even more time to enjoy them.

Outdoor experiences available in:

- Stockholm's archipelago (pages 14-17)
- The West Coast of Sweden (pages 29-31)
- Norway's fjord region (pages 56-65)
- Northern Norway and Svalbard (pages 66-89)

City Breaks:

Rome has history, Paris has style, Barcelona has Gaudi's cathedral but none of them have the fresh, natural appeal of the Scandinavian cities which, when combined with excellent shopping facilities, world-class museums and delicious cuisine cannot be beaten.

City breaks available in:

Sweden: Stockholm, Malmö and Gothenburg (pages 13,14, 19 and 27)

Norway: Oslo, Stavanger, Bergen, Ålesund and Tromsø (pages 53, 57, 58, 60, 70, 84 and 85)

Denmark: Copenhagen (page 95)
