

Denmark - The gateway to Scandinavia

Denmark is the smallest and southernmost country of Scandinavia. With its rich Viking heritage, endless countryside, glorious sandy beaches, a host of medieval castles and Manor Houses and, of course, the vibrant city of Copenhagen it is a destination with much to offer the independent traveller.

Copenhagen

Founded in 1167, Copenhagen has been the capital of Denmark since the early 15th century. With a historical core, the world's second oldest theme park, cafes, canals and castles it is one of the most relaxed and picturesque capitals in Europe, and an ideal destination for a short break.
